

ON $10 A WEEK OLD MAN STOLE FOR AGED WIFE

"High Cost of Living" Made It Impossible for Him to Live on His Salary.

ITEMIZES HIS EXPENSES.

Shows Court Minimum on Which He Could Decently
Support Two People.

William P. Wines, sixty years old, for years a bookkeeper and the "victim of the high cost of living," who last week pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery in the second degree, was today sentenced by Judge Rosalesky in the Court of General Sessions to one year in the penitentiary.

Wines presented the appearance of a member of the army of the shabby gent. He wore a frock coat of old-fashioned cut. The black cloth had given way to a greenish color, the result of years of wear. The face of the man was kindly, deeply seamed with wrinkles and noticeably pale. He held himself erect and looked the Court full in the face.

Wines pleaded guilty of securing money from the bank account of Walter and Michael McGuire, dealers in junk at No. 330 West Twentieth street, by whom he was employed as a bookkeeper at $10 a week. By enlarging checks and retaining the difference Wines managed to add about $25 each week to his small salary.

HIGH COST OF LIVING DROVE HIM TO CRIME.

When his plea of guilty was entered, Wines told of being the son of a former prominent merchant in this city, now deceased. He told how he had endeavored to support his wife, who is the same age as himself, in a manner worthy of her station in life, on the ten-dollar-a-week salary he received, and how, after he had found this impossible, he resorted to the method to which he pleaded guilty as the only means.

"It was the high cost of living," said Wines at the time he entered his plea. "I am a victim of the high cost of living."

Wines itemized his expenses for the benefit of Judge Rosalesky, giving, he said, the lowest possible figure of each item. He found, he said, that he could not procure a week's supply of groceries for less than $1 to $2. His meat bill for the same period, he said, was between $2 and $3 at the lowest estimate. The rent for a week, he added, was $1.50 and the remainder of the money he secured was spent in purchasing clothing and in defraying other necessary expenses.

Chief Probation Officer Conway gave Judge Rosalesky letters he had obtained from former employers of Wines in which it was stated that the bookkeeper while in their employ was found to be honest and a conscientious worker.

AGES MATERIALLY IN TOMBS CELL.

Those who were in court last week when Wines entered his plea of guilty noticed a marked change in the man today. He had grown haggard in a few days. The prospect of months spent in a prison cell had broken the old man's spirit.

In sentencing Wines Judge Rosalesky said: "Wines, because of your advanced age and because your former employers have asked that clemency be shown you, I will be as lenient as I can. I know it is hard for a man accustomed to the good things of life to be thrust into the bad things of life."

LITTLE WOMAN TAMES CHAMPION MAN KILLER

Miss Anderson Talks Back to Alleged Murderer, Who Cursed Judge and Lawyer.

WHEATON, Ill., Nov. 12.—A woman dancing teacher—petite, but possessed of blazing eyes—today tamed Henry Spencer, who boasts that he is the champion "man killer" of the age, shortly after Spencer's trial on the charge of slaying Mrs. Mildred Allam-Rexroat was resumed.

Spencer, who knocked down his attorney in open court yesterday, hurled epithets at the Judge and attorneys and fought with Deputy Sheriffs who guarded him, evidently was prepared to frisk Miss Nina Anderson out of her seat when she took the witness stand. Miss Anderson, who taught the Tango at the same dancing academy with Spencer's alleged victim, was testifying that Spencer lured Mrs. Rexroat to Wayne, Ill., where he murdered her, by telling her he had formed a Tango class there.

"You're a liar," shouted Spencer, rising from his seat.

"Don't you call me a liar," responded the little dancing teacher, wrathfully, and she sprang from the witness box and took a menacing position in front of the alleged "man killer." "Don't you dare interrupt me again. If I were running this jury I'd see that you were hanged."

Spencer sank back in his chair, and Miss Anderson continued her testimony without interruption.

NOMINATIONS BY WILSON.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The following nominations were sent to the Senate by the President today:

Minister to Spain—Alexander Sweeney of Portland, Ore.
Secretary of the Embassy at Rome—Peter Augustus Jay of Rhode Island.
Second Secretary of the Embassy at Rome—Norval Richardson of Mississippi.
Associate Justice of the Philippines Supreme Court—Manuel Araullo of the Philippine Islands.

For some people a breakfast may cost as little as a half-cent a dish.

Even less than that is the cost if you eat
H-O; but the tax on your pocketbook is not so light as the tax on your digestive organs, because H-O is steam-cooked at the mill. After only 20 minutes on your range it becomes a delicious breakfast food.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotics, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, these opiates cause changes in the functions of the body, and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Cocaine contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Cocaine always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York's Greatest Player Piano Opportunity

The Value is - - $550.00
The Price is - - $395.00
The Saving is - - $155.00

Copyright, 1913, by O'Neill-Adams Co.

This sale is a simple matter of arithmetic. If you are anxious to save exactly $155 and at the same time buy a $550 player piano with the least financial effort, your purchase from us will mean money in your pocket and a most satisfactory player piano in your home. Or you can save $101.25 in the purchase of a $350 piano for $248.75. We can prove this with facts and figures.

The Newton Player Piano Is WORTH $550.00

$200
PER WEEK

The initial payment necessary to obtain one of these player pianos is FIVE DOLLARS. The five dollars is deducted from the price—leaving THREE HUNDRED AND NINETY DOLLARS to be paid at TWO DOLLARS a week, with NO INTEREST or further payments of any nature.

Like anything else a player piano has got to have enough quality in it to push it up to a certain value. The Newton has this quality in good strings, good hammers, good sounding board, expert construction as a piano and one of the best player piano actions that was ever placed in a piano. We know that this infallible test—comparison with other player pianos at $550. Or compare the $248.75 piano with other $350 in-

$395 Is Our Price During This Co-operative Sale

We have cut $155 off the price. We have practically given you this $155 that you and other purchasers will give us a quick distribution of 300 player pianos in a short period of time. We can afford to share profits if we can do day in other lines in a small way. Naturally your profit is a big one.

YOUR PROFIT IS $155.00

and more! Because we do not ask that $395 be paid down in cash. We merely ask for a $5 first payment to bind the bargain and send you the piano. Then—$2 each week. And this easy payment without any interest charges.

So You Have the Use of Your $395.00 for a Long Time.

In fact, you can take 193 weeks' time to pay for your player piano, and all this time you and your family have it in your home. If you hear any music you like—slip in the music roll of this music and play it immediately—yourself. Any of those "old favorites" of yours are always at your finger tip with a Newton Player Piano in your service. The joy of playing yourself—of being master of any music you see fit to play—is the joy of this player piano. You will call $2 a week an absolutely easy price to pay for all this!

All the features of our co-operative plan are carried out in offering pianos, with the single exception that the terms on the Newton piano are $1.25 a week, instead of—as on the player piano—$2.00 a week.

Your Investment Is Safe

Jointly with the makers, we say in your 5 year guarantee that the player piano is perfect in material and workmanship. If you are dissatisfied with the player piano within the first 30 days—ask us to take it back. We will do so and return all your money.

You may exchange your player piano for a new one at any time during the first year you own it.

Should you die before all the payments are made—your family receives a receipt free and clear for the instrument.

These and other privileges and guarantees come to you in a signed contract when you buy your player piano.
